With cotton quiet and general trade resting on its oars, the banks are very dull places. Money principally at 8 per cent., with applications for it few and small. The main event of the day was the engagement of $1,000,000 gold for shipment by to-morrow's steamers; is not certain that more than half of this will be sent, and there was talk of the whole hipment amounting to $1,500,000. The New York Balletin, of Wednesday, reports: "The tone at the reopening of the Liverpool market was evidently a decided disappointment to the "bulls," who had calculated that after the holiday rest business abroad would open in better shape, but the contrary was the showing by to-day's cables, and this in reality dissipated about the only hope of a stimulating influence. The offerings to-day were not very extensive either on short sales or under an effort to throw over than the market required, and an absence of confidence was very apparent. The business in actual cotton at all points keeps within The New York Balletin, of Wednesday, very narrow limits, offerings from primary points are made with more freedom and increasing pressure, and there seemed to be an impression to-day that the control of supplies was less perfect than generally supposed, and the chances for a corner correspondingly diminished." The cotton protection association in New York are carrying out their important aims with firmness and success. On Thesday last a notice was posted on the cott. Tuesday last a notice was posted on the cot-ton exchange that the license as warehousemen, hitherto held from the exchange by Messrs. Titus & Burdett, was revoked by order of the board of managers on the twentieth instant, for willful neglect of and refusal to comply with the rules of the exchange for the protection of cotton and for the guarantee of licensed warehopsemen.

Verkes, claims from the keokuk Northern packet line twenty-five thousand dollars, as damages for injuries received while traveling on one of their boats. The facts of the case. packet line twenty-five thousand dollars, as damages for injuries received while traveling on one of their boats. The facts of the case, as shown by the evidence given on behalf of the plaintiff, are that Mr. Yerkes, on July 31, 1876, embarked at Rock Island, on one of the defendant's boats, called the Minnesota. The next morning, about seven o'clock, he went to a certain part of the boat, near the wheelhouse, and while standing there one of the paddles of the wheel came off and was thrown through the bulkhead, knocking him with such force as to drive him through the door to another part of the vessel. He was picked up insensible and taken ashore at the nearest city, where it was found that his spine was seriously injured. He was so badly hurt that it is said he will never fully recover. The defendants do not deny the accident or the serious nature of the injuries received, but they deny their liability, and say that, as the accident was not in any way caused by their negligence, therefore they are not re-sponsible for the results. They aver that the wheel was new, and properly and strongly made, and that probably it struck some object in the river, and so got displaced. This is the point the jury will have to decide. The case will probably be given to them this evening."
